

Software Design Description

Brandon Smith, Nieka Gutenberger, Joseph Coppin, Ryan Frazier, Trevor Jewkes

September 24, 2016

1 Software Design

1.1 Login Screen

Username

Password

Login

Create Account

This screen is the first screen the user will see. It has a text box for the user to enter a user name and password. It also has two buttons a login which sends the username and password to the server, and brings up Screen 3; and a Create Account button which takes the user to Screen 2. where they can create their account prior to playing games.

1.2 Account Creation

First Name

Last Name

Birthday

Email

Username

Password

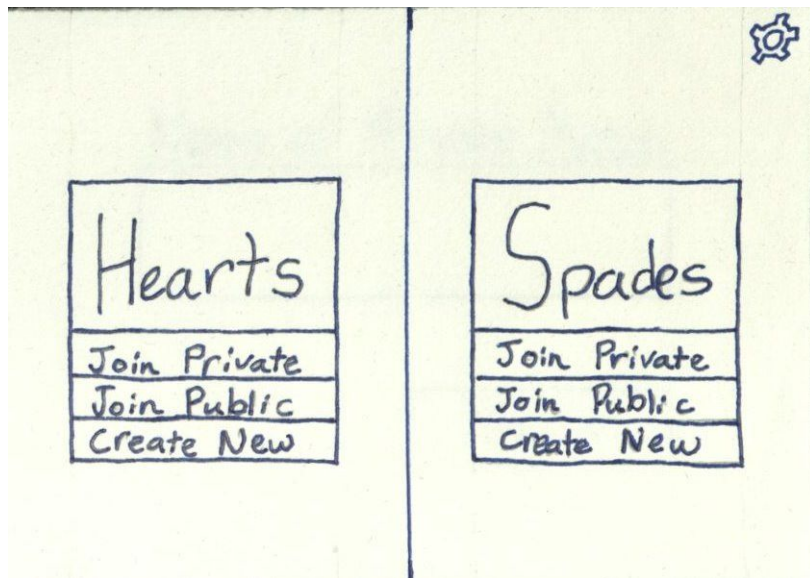

Screen Name

Validate Password

Create Account

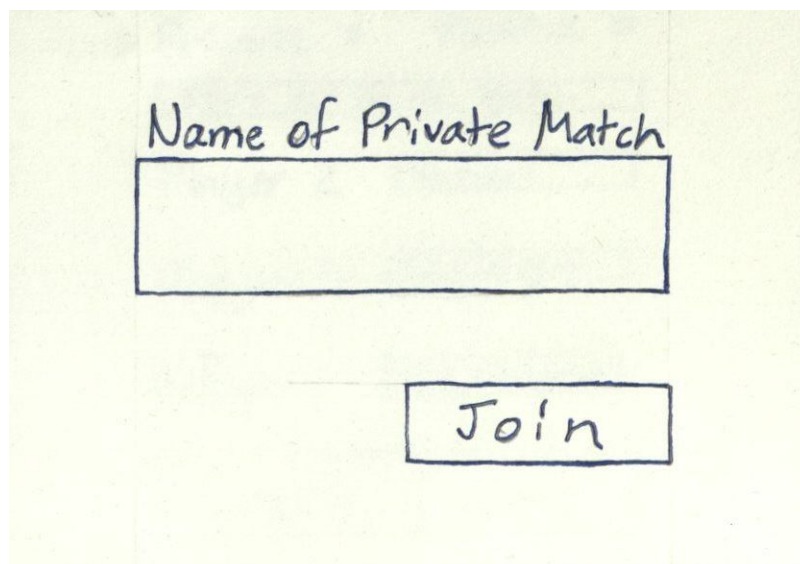

This screen is the screen that appears after the User clicks the Create Account Button. It has text fields for all the information needed to create an account including Name, First and Last, Birthday, E-mail, Username, Password Screen Name and Verify Password, Finally the page includes a Create Account button which sends all information to the server so it can create the account.

1.3 Main Menu

This screen is the main menu for the Game, it is divided in half with one half related to the game of Hearts, and the other half for the game of Spades. Each half includes three buttons, Join Private, Join Public and Create New. The Join Private brings up Screen 4, which allows the user enter the name of the game they want to join. The Join Public will tell the server to assign the user to the first available public game, if no game is available the server will create a new game with the user and three AI players. Finally the Create New button will bring up Screen 5. which asks for the users preferences to create a new game.

1.4 Join Private

This Screen appears when a user has selected to Join a Private game it is very simple it includes a a text box for the user to enter the name of the game they wish to join.

1.5 Create New

Private ☐ Public ☐

Player 2

Player 3

Player 4

This Screen appears when a user requests to create a new game it includes a radio button to select either a public or private game. If private is selected a text box is activated for the user to enter a name for the game. Next is a set of radio buttons allowing the user to select 1, 2, or 3 additional human players. Next the user selects the lever of the AI, and finally a Create Game Button which sends the information to the server and creates the new game.

1.6 Place Bid

Team 1: 0

Screen Name

Bid 0

Won 0

Team 2: 0

Screen Name

Bid 0

Won 0

Bid	0	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13

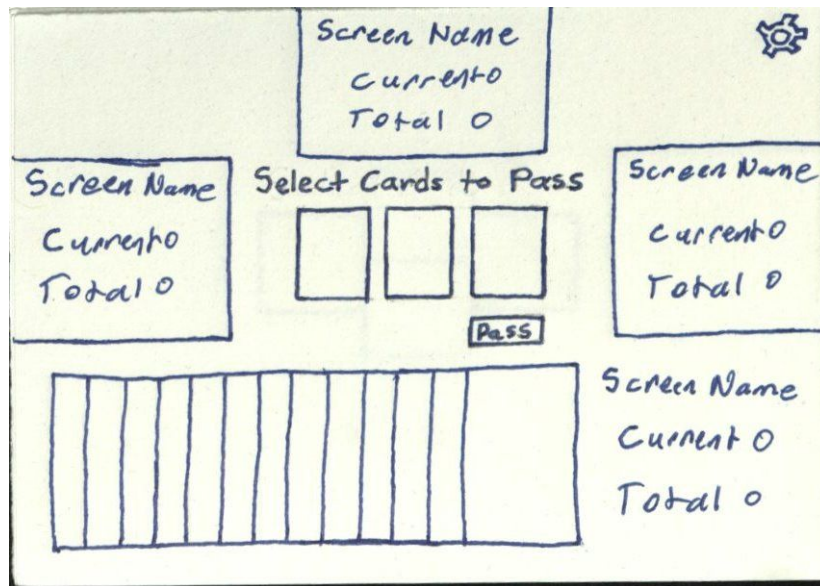

Screen Name

Bid 0

Won 0

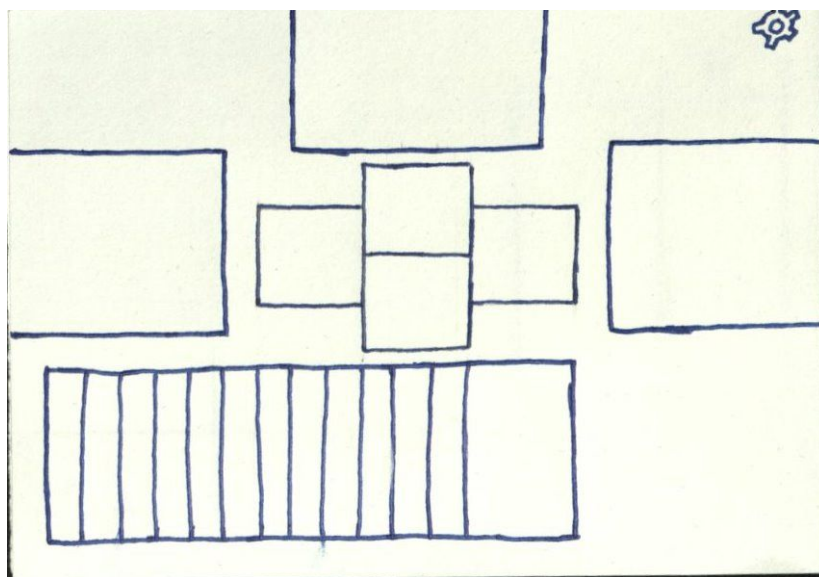

This view will prompt the user to place a bid while playing the game of Spades. They will choose a bid from the ones provided.

1.7 Pass Cards

This view will prompt the user to choose 3 of their cards which they will pass while playing the game of Hearts. Once the cards have been chosen, the "Pass Cards" button will need to be pressed to move on.

1.8 Game Play

This screen will be the view that will be use for play of the game. Since Spades and Hearts have the same basic set-up we can use the same view for both. It shows the players hand along with the scores of the other players.

1.9 Scoreboard

A hand-drawn sketch of a scoreboard on a piece of paper. The title "Score Board" is at the top. Below it is a table with 5 columns: "Players", "1", "2", "3", and "4". The first four rows are empty for player scores. The fifth row is labeled "Total" in the first column. At the bottom right, outside the table, is a button labeled "Deal Next Round".

Players	1	2	3	4
Total

Deal Next Round

This is the scoreboard that will be shown inbetween rounds. It will show the scores for all the following rounds. There is a "Deal" button that will be use to move to the next round.

1.10 End-of-Game

A hand-drawn sketch of an end-of-game screen. At the top, it says "So-and-so Won!!!". Below this, it says "Final Scores:" followed by "Team 1" and "Team 2", each with a horizontal line for a score. At the bottom, there are two rectangular buttons labeled "Play Again" and "Main Menu".

So-and-so Won!!!

Final Scores:

Team 1 _____

Team 2 _____

Play Again Main Menu

This the End-of-Game screen. It will display the winner of the game along with the final scores for the game. There are two buttons, "Play Again" and "Main Menu". The "Play Again" button is used to play again with the same players. The "Main Menu" button will return the user to the main menu.